

Skiathos/Skopelos By Design

The Northern Sporades

Two remarkably beautiful and unspoiled islands. Sophisticated Skiathos is the ideal holiday destination. The main town is filled with attractive little cafes, taverns, bars, and fine boutiques; All mixed with private houses covered with bougainvillea. There are 60 beaches on the island and many of them are reached by water taxi. Skiathos is served by air from Athens. Ferry boat service is available to and from the nearby islands of Skopelos, Alonisos and Skiros. Skopelos is adorned with white churches and houses with red tile roofs, colorfully painted doors form a semi-circle rising straight up from the port. While the island has a dozen or so accessible beaches (Milieu is about the best.) Skopelos has more than 300 churches, two of the finest nunneries are open to the public and are close to Skopelos Town. Its verdant landscape attracts a host of tourists who can choose between a cosmopolitan vacation or a quiet stay.
